

Orthofix International Questions Qualifications of Ramius Nominee for Orthofix Board

BOSTON, Jan 28, 2009 (BUSINESS WIRE) -- Orthofix International N.V. (NASDAQ: OFIX) (the Company) announced today that the Chairman of the Company's Board of Directors, James F. Gero, sent a letter, included below, to Ramius LLC questioning the qualifications of one of Ramius's nominees for Orthofix's Board of Directors.

Jeffrey Smith
Ramius Capital
599 Lexington Ave.
New York, NY 10022

Dear Mr. Smith:

In anticipation of an upcoming special shareholders meeting, I am writing to you on behalf of the Board of Directors of Orthofix International N.V. to take issue with the proposed nomination of 29-year-old Ramius employee Peter A. Feld to our Board. We note that Mr. Feld is neither a partner nor a senior executive listed on Ramius's website, yet you consider him qualified to serve on our Board even though he has neither healthcare experience nor any apparent specific functional operating experiences that we could gather from publicly available information.

It is also important to note that Mr. Feld's tenure on the boards of public companies is not only limited, but has on more than one occasion coincided with or been followed by significant adverse events for those companies. Two recent examples are CPI Corp and Sharper Image. CPI Corp, a portrait studio company whose board Mr. Feld joined in 2008, was in danger of being delisted by the New York Stock Exchange this past November requiring it to submit a response plan to the NYSE within 45 days. And Sharper Image, once an icon of American retail and on whose board Mr. Feld served for several months in 2007 and 2008, suffered significant financial difficulty and filed for bankruptcy protection shortly after Mr. Feld left its board.

In contrast, our current Board of Directors is made up of a cross section of professionals with unique expertise and accomplishments in healthcare, research and development, sales and distribution, auditing and compliance, communications, and strategic planning. Orthofix has grown from a small $7 million concern in 1987 to an entity that has publicly announced it will surpass $500 million in gross annual revenue this year. I am proud of the composition of the current Board and the guidance it has given our Company. This Board supported the Blackstone acquisition and recently, after a detailed analysis and strategic guidance from Morgan Stanley, the Board unanimously voted to support the Company's strategic plan and spine strategy, with Blackstone playing a central role.

On December 15th of last year Orthofix announced that the Company and its partner, the Musculoskeletal Transplant Foundation (MTF), had achieved a major milestone in their efforts to develop a stem cell-based allograft. The Company also began the limited market release of two new products, the Firebird(TM) pedicle screw system and the PILLAR(TM) SA interbody device, both of which are expected to be fully launched in the first quarter of 2009. On December 29th, the Company made a $10 million partial debt repayment, ahead of the scheduled maturity date, which increased the Company's flexibility in executing its operating plan.

Orthofix's Board objects to Mr. Feld's sparse resume, as well as to the manner in which he and Ramius have conducted themselves during this proxy solicitation process. First, earlier this month Ramius issued a highly misleading press release which falsely implied that proxy advisor RiskMetrics Group (RMG) had endorsed the Ramius proposal to replace members of the Orthofix Board with its own nominees. Secondly, three days later Ramius quietly filed notice with the SEC no longer seeking to replace Orthofix CEO and Director Alan Milinazzo, stating their belief that it is good corporate governance to have the acting CEO as a member of the Board.

In summary, given that Mr. Feld is 29 years old, and considering his limited board, managerial and healthcare experience, we believe it would be difficult for shareholders, market observers or industry experts to argue that Mr. Feld would add value to Orthofix, particularly in today's highly competitive and challenging market environment. Additionally, we object to Ramius's game-playing and serial misrepresentations in this serious matter. Orthofix shareholders deserve better.

Sincerely,
James F. Gero

Chairman, Board of Directors
